At RSNA 2016, Agfa HealthCare presents Supplier Excellence awards for Best Supplier and Most Committed Supplier

Spellman and MphRx are recognized for their key contributions and dedication to Agfa HealthCare's solutions and business

Mortsel, Belgium – 27 November 2016 – 23:00 CET

- Awards are based on quality, delivery and cost, as well as the results from a cross-functional stakeholder survey.
- 39 suppliers in total were pre-selected, representing imaging systems, imaging informatics solutions and healthcare information systems.
- The two winners were selected by Agfa HealthCare's Management Committee.

(RSNA 2016, Booth #3336) Agfa HealthCare announces today that it has presented two Supplier Excellence awards at RSNA 2016, to Spellman and MphRx. X-ray generator vendor Spellman has won Best Supplier. MphRx was recognized as Most Committed Supplier for its contribution to the Integrated Care platform. The awards were presented to the two companies on Sunday, 27 November at Agfa HealthCare's booth at RSNA 2016.

Highlighting suppliers who make outstanding contributions

The annual Supplier Excellence awards are based on Supplier Scorecards that take into account quality, delivery, cost and services. In addition, this year a cross-functional stakeholder survey on the nominated suppliers was carried out, and the resulting scores taken into consideration. Results are reviewed by an awards board comprised of Agfa HealthCare's Management Committee.

Best Supplier Spellman provides X-ray generators for Agfa HealthCare's imaging solutions. This innovative company, with headquarters in Hauppauge, NY, develops cutting-edge power supplies for medical imaging applications. "Spellmann is delivering one of the key components of our high quality, reliable DR solutions." says Louis Kuitenbrouwer, Vice President Imaging solutions at

Agfa HealthCare. “As a leading high voltage X-ray generator supplier they are a perfect match with our best-of- breed DR solutions as recognized by Frost and Sullivan in their Best Practices Award Report.”

Most Committed Supplier MphRx Inc. is a healthcare technology company, headquartered in New York, which delivers building blocks for Agfa HealthCare’s Integrated Care solutions.

“There was a very close and good collaboration between MphRx and Agfa HealthCare throughout the integration phase,” states James Jay, Vice President Imaging IT solutions, Agfa HealthCare. “The combined technologies, expertise and people of both companies create a unique and leading Integrated Care portfolio.”
